Message From Our President

We had a very dry winter and the Winnebago basin is well behind on moisture for the year. Some badly needed spring rain finally brought water into the marshes, and will really help with fish spawning. Regular rain throughout the summer is best for boating, particularly on the Upper Fox River. In Wisconsin, the weather can change quickly; be careful what we wish for.

Friends of the Fox has seen some changes. Two of our long time board members, Dan Reinhold and Steve Lockhart have decided to resign from our board of directors. They have both been stalwart supporters for many years. Steve has served as treasurer and Dan also served on the Fox-Wisconsin Heritage Parkway board. We will miss them both very much; I would personally like to thank them for their wonderful service to our organization.

Friends of the Fox has moved our meeting location to the Fox River Environmental Education Alliance (FREEA) campus, at 1000 North Ballard St., in Appleton. This move has given us many opportunities to partner with other advocacy groups. The education and outreach to families, and to young people has been wonderful. FREEA has many events for group organizations, and is open to the public interested in the Fox River and the outdoors. The spread of invasive species and education about current environmental best practices has been key pieces missing from our educational efforts. FREEA's beautiful waterfront property connects by trail. In June, new docks will arrive, and will be installed at FREEA's location.

As you can see from the front page of this newsletter, we are having our 2015 annual meeting at the High Cliff Supper Club on May 21st. The River Talks event will follow our meeting, and is sponsored by Fox-Wisconsin Heritage Parkway and the Community Foundation for the Fox Valley Region, Inc. The event will culminate with a presentation by nationally known author Alex Krieger on Remaking the Urban Waterfront. See the formal invitation in this newsletter for details, and a registration link (pages 4-5). I know you will want to attend!

Fox-Wisconsin Heritage Parkway's website is the go to place to learn about what is currently happening to promote tourism on and near "Wisconsin's First Highway" - the Fox and Lower Wisconsin Rivers. The website is well designed, and full of useful information about the Parkway. Friends of the Fox website has a link on it that is more focused on water recreation and waterfront information. You'll enjoy exploring both websites, as much as you enjoy exploring the rivers.

Dave Peck, President

Board Members Up for Re-Election

Richard Abb is one of Friends of the Fox's founding members and has served on the Board for over 23 years. Before retiring, Richard was employed with Kimberly-Clark Corporation, and worked with collateral duties managing Neenah Dam with the U.S. Corp of Engineers. Richard has served Friends of the Fox faithfully throughout the years. Without his commitment Friends would not have made the achievements we have.

Ellen Balthazor, Secretary, has been on the Friends of the Fox board since the 1990's. Ellen has a special interest in bringing people to the Fox River to enjoy the historical treasure of the lock system. Ellen also had a passion at working to reopen the Fox River for navigation, while protecting the environment. She is pleased at the opening of many of the locks, and looks forward to the time that the entire lock system will be navigable.

Brunhilde Courtney, Executive Board Member, has served on the Friends of the Fox board about 30 years. Brunhilde and her husband have traveled through the Lower Fox locks for many summer vacations to Lake Michigan, and the North Channel in their sailboat. They own a home on Little Lake Butte des Morts, so Brunhilde very much enjoys the opportunity to educate waterfront property owners on safe lawn practices to keep our water pristine.

Ed Kleckner has served on the Friends of the Fox board for over 11 years, and has been active in working on the Fox and Wisconsin Rivers for the past 21 years. Ed works for East Central Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission, where he is a Principal Planner responsible for recreation and urban economic development planning, for an eight county region in the state of Wisconsin.

Ed's passion for the Appleton riverfront has now been expanded to cover the Fox and Wisconsin River historic Marquette and Joliet "1673 Route of Exploration," from the bay of Green Bay to the confluence of the Wisconsin River with the Mississippi River. Ed has enjoyed working closely with Friends of the Fox in directing the Fox-Wisconsin Heritage Parkway project as they secured a National Recreational Trail designation for the Heritage Parkway.

Annual Meeting

Individuals Up for Election to the Board

Chris Blohm has served on the Friends of the Fox board in the past. Chris left the board when he moved out of state due to a job relocation. He has since returned to the area and is interested in once again serving on our board. In the past, Chris's primary effort, while serving on the board, was advocating for the environmentally responsible, safe, sustainable and effective completion of Rapid Croche transfer site. We would love to have Chris back on board!

Tyler Lueck is a senior at Lawrence University where he studies Biology. As a student he has focused his studies on freshwater and marine ecology. He has taken part in studies on coral reefs in the Caribbean as well as lakes in northern Wisconsin. He enjoys all outdoor activities from fishing and boating to rock climbing. Tyler hopes that as a board member he can foster a valuable connection to Lawrence University to further the mission of Friends of the Fox.

Jim Kozac is a member of the Appleton Yacht Club where he has served as treasurer as well as their Vice Commodore. Jim is an avid recreational boater and has volunteered many hours promoting the Fox River. Jim works in property management.

Board Resignations

*Thank - You for Your Service
You Will Be Missed*

Friends of the Fox would like to extend our sincere thanks and gratitude for all Steve Lockhart has contributed to our board. Steve has been extremely thorough, patient and hard working, and unselfishly given of his time on countless occasions. Steve took on the position of treasurer and did an exemplary job. For the last 20 years Steve has been a wooden boat enthusiast. He joined the board to help make the Fox River the best possible place for boating. We wish you all the best Steve! Thanks for your contribution to our board. You will be greatly missed!!!

Friends of the Fox would like to thank and extend our appreciation to Dan Reinhold, for his six years of service on our board. Dan has offered much value to our board. As Dan was born and raised in Fond du Lac, he has a love for Wisconsin's waterways. We have been blessed to work with you Dan! Thanks for everything! We desire only the best for your future endeavors! Thanks again Dan!

To be a volunteer, it takes...

Generosity, a willingness to give your time to others

Dedication, to stick with the project and see it through

You've shown these qualities and so much more,

So Thank You for All that You Do!!!

River Talks 2015

AN EVENING WITH ALEX KRIEGER

At Water's Edge:
A Town Endures and Transforms

Fox-Wisconsin Heritage Parkway, with support from the Community Foundation for the Fox Valley Region, is bringing Mr. Krieger to work with five area municipalities on their waterfronts. Some have redevelopment sites, some have issues with connecting the downtown with the river, and others under utilized parks.

He and his colleague, Alan Mountjoy, will study, tour and then share their insights and expertise, in a presentation to the community.

Riverfront redevelopment potential has increased greatly due to the rebounding health of this river system. The Parkway celebrates this fact and honors those who have helped them get to this point, with their first annual Lifetime River Advocate Award.

The evening begins at 4:00 p.m. with registration, wonderful food and drink, networking, as well as river based art for viewing and for sale.

During this time the Parkway will also have poster boards talking about the current state of a number of important river projects. See under networking on the next page for details.

Mr. Krieger will be available to meet and greet.

5:30 kicks off the program with a voice from the past quickly melding into a video montage of the progress being made today, leading nicely into Mr. Krieger's presentation on the future potentials.

This night, in addition to the consultations leading up to it, will offer a fresh, regional perspective on waterfront redevelopment opportunities throughout the Fox Cities and its core messages will be applicable to many waterfront communities around the state.

The most difficult challenge facing American urbanism may not be coming up with a better way to subdivide land, but rather to rescue, reinvigorate, reform, resettle, and learn to love again places that have already been made.

Alex Krieger

Programs like this are not possible without the help of sponsors, who have a vested interest in our area's most precious resource, and the community development it affords.
